The world of contemporary media is immense and immersed in technology and multimedia. It requires dedication, the ability to deal with fast changes, and a variety of skills. Creating articles, working with cameras, taking photographs, shooting and recording on mobile devices, writing for social media – this program teaches you how to do all of this and more. The benefit of this program is that you will be immersed in the atmosphere of project work from your first day of studies, allowing you to gain extensive practical experience throughout your four years of study.
