

Psychology in Business

National Research University – Higher School of Economics

Degree or qualification is awarded: MSc in Psychology

Language of study: Russian

Mode of study: full-time

Duration: 2 years

Availability of free education: no

Price: 400 000 RUB per year

Programme webpage at the university website: <http://www.hse.ru/ma/pb/>

Programme curator: Ivanova Natalia

Tel.: +74957096569 (add 220)

E-mail: nivanova@hse.ru

This programme aims to train expert psychologists for work in businesses including profit making companies, firms and other institutions aimed at production of goods and services. In international practice such experts are called business psychologists.

The main subject area of theoretical and practical education within the course is related to the psychology of business – a modern branch of psychology which is at the cross-section of organizational and social psychology, labour psychology and psychology of personality, as well as economics, sociology and management. Much attention is paid to the problems of economic psychology related to the study of economic conscience of personality and society as well as the psychology of entrepreneurship and consumer behaviour psychology.

Specializations within this programme