International partnership

PetrSU has concluded 107 cooperation agreements with 30 countries. The university runs academic exchange programs with 72 foreign universities. PetrSU has twenty years of experience teaching foreign students. More than 500 students from different countries of the world study at the university every year, and about 250 students of PetrSU undergo trainings in foreign universities under the programs Erasmus +, FIRST +, DAAD, Fulbright, North2North, Stipendium Hungaricum, etc. Every year PetrSU implements at least 30 international projects supported by international organizations. The university collaborates with UNESCO, the University of the Arctic, the Barents/Euro-Arctic Council of Education and Science, the National Council for Education of Finland.

Preparatory department for foreign applicants

Other types of training

At the preparatory faculty of PetrSU, foreign students study the Russian language, as well as subjects necessary for admission to the full-degree bachelor, specialty or master's programs. The training lasts from October to June. During this time, students not only master Russian, but also adapt to the conditions of life and study in Russia. International service staff and volunteers of PetrSU help them in this. During training all foreign students live in a dormitory (on a fee-paying basis).

The preparatory faculty of PetrSU offers four areas of preparation:

- economic
- humanitarian
- biomedical
- engineering and technological.

PetrSU accepts documents from April, 1 to August, 31; the training starts from October, 1. A later deadline for submitting documents and starting training is possible - this must be agreed upon individually.

Support of foreign students

Foreign students can always count on support in solving a wide variety of issues that arise during their studies in Petrozavodsk. Employees of the PetrSU international service accompany foreign students from the first months in Petrozavodsk until they receive a diploma in their main specialty. For the convenience of foreigners who do not speak Russian, a convenient version of the official website of PetrSU in English has been developed. Through a simple online form, applicants can directly ask all questions about admission to PetrSU and study in Russia.

For foreign students who are already studying at PetrSU, a Facebook group has been created, which publishes useful information on studies and migration rules, announcements of interesting events in the city, articles on learning the Russian language and much more, which allows foreigners to feel part of the local student and urban community.

In addition, there is Slovo international agency which is involved in organizing work with foreign students. This is a linguistic volunteer movement that unites students from all over the world, regardless of nationality, age and major. Organizers, volunteers, participants and guests watch and discuss films together, cook national dishes, listen to and give lectures, play, learn to communicate and understand each other, and even travel.

Everyday life of foreign students

PetrSU creates the most comfortable conditions for adaptation and further study of foreign students in Petrozavodsk. Starting from the preparatory faculty, all foreigners are provided with places in one of the modern campus dormitories.

Leisure and sport events

Along with Russian students, foreigners can join one of the creative teams of PetrSU. This is an academic choir, two theaters, several ensembles, a pop vocal studio, various clubs.

For sports you can enroll in one of 20 sports clubs (skiing, volleyball, futsal, wushu, orienteering, weightlifting, judo, basketball, athletics, chess, checkers, game of go, sambo, aerobics, tourism). There is a stadium for training, ski slopes, a swimming pool, modern gyms.
