Profession focus:

The program has been designed to provide students with knowledge in critical core international business law courses, while also creating the opportunity for students to pursue their own academic interests through elective courses.

The program is aimed at recently graduated lawyers and junior practitioners in its main markets who over the years have proven to be very interested in the fields of business law and arbitration. It will give lawyers the practical and theoretical skills necessary to deal with business problems and dispute resolution including arbitration, in an international or national context.

Program aim:

This two-year full-time Professional LL.M. program is designed to give law graduates and lawyers from around the world advanced training in international private law.

It provides an opportunity for our students to specialize in fields not fully covered in their previous law experience, to broaden their knowledge of current field of practice or to explore new areas of interest in legal practice.

Courses:

«Introduction to International private law: Theoretical and Historical Aspect», «Current Issues of International Private Law», «Cross-border transactions: legal and practical aspects», «Law of international trade», «Protection of Intellectual Property Rights», «Law of torts», «International Commercial Arbitration and other ADR» «CISG and International Commercial Arbitration (Model MOOT)», «Contracts Law (RF)», «Insurance Law», «Inheritance Law».

Academic practice and Legal Consulting (Internship (Optional):

Students have the option of applying for two-month, unpaid internships in settings such as law firms and legal departments of corporations. The internship qualifies as a 10 credit course. The internships are intended to provide students with the opportunity to experience what it is like to work in a RF legal setting and to apply the knowledge and skills learned throughout the course of the LL.M. program.

Graduates' expertise and career opportunities:

Graduates will acquire advanced specialized legal training and will be qualified to work in multinational legal environments including as an in-house legal counsel and as an attorney in arbitration and litigation practice.
