Organized by ITMO University's International Institute of Photonics and Optical Information Technologies, Research Summer Camp in Photonics has been successfully running for five years. The camp's program is designed for two weeks and this year it was decided to switch to full online format. During these two weeks participants will:

- Listen to the lectures by ITMO's leading scientists in the field of photonics.
- Take part in the interactive masterclasses and practices and be able to take part in the scientific experiments with the state-of-art setups and equipment.

Admission Requirements

- Undergraduate (2nd year and above), Graduate and PhD students in Optics, Photonics, Laser Physics and Technology;
- Interest in Femtosecond Optics and Femtotechnology, Quantum Informatics, Femtomedicine, Digital and Display Holography.

Bonuses for Camp Graduates

- Preference in admission to the Master's degree program at ITMO University
