The duration of the programme is 4 years. All successful applicants will be offered a tuition waiver, accommodation in a university student residence for a nominal fee and a scholarship. Some of the successful applicants may instead be awarded a scholarship from the Skolkovo Innovation Centre.

In addition to the above our PhD students benefit from rich social and cultural life in Moscow.

Submitting an application: There are two separate tracks for applying for a PhD position at the HSE, although only one of these will be available to most applicants. Please note that this applies to the selection procedure only, and the rest of the programme, including funding, is the same for all successful applicants.
