The program International Management was founded in 2010 in order to train highly qualified managers for fast-growing Russian and international companies, as well as researchers in modern management with analytical, leadership and teamwork skills. Therefore, the program curriculum includes not only a range of disciplines in management and business, but also academic courses that allow our alumni to successfully analyze economic situation. Its combination with a semester abroad, corporate internships and master classes, as well as projects implemented by students during their studies provides wide opportunities for employment and developing career for our alumni.

The goal of the program is to train modern highly professional managers qualified for successful performance in Russian and international companies. Students gain skills for doing business in the contemporary economic environment. Learning outcomes include analytical competencies for planning and forecasting company operations, budgeting, efficiency management, strategic development, management of supply chain and finances, as well as strong soft skills for teamwork and business negotiations.

The program grants 120 ECTS. The program is 100% realized in English. Visiting professors from European universities teach a number of courses.

International environment

- About 46% of students in the study groups are international students.
- Semester abroad: exchange opportunities with 40 GSEM partners — leading business schools in Europe and Asia, as well as 400+ UrFU partners.

Students can choose between two tracks in the program: International Business and International Financial Management.

The first year is the same for both tracks. Courses of the first year are obligatory and share on basic and professionally focused. The second year offers the choice between two tracks.

The program includes 2 internships (in the summer after the first year of study and in the spring semester of the second year). The program finishes with a final multidisciplinary exam and defense of the master thesis.

A range of corporate partners participates in the program realization, including KPMG, Unilever, Metro Cash & Carry, UralLocomotives, Ekaterinburg Zhirovoy Kombinat (Group of Companies RUSAGRO), Advertising Agency DeltaPlan, SKB-Lab, SKB-Kontur, etc.

Graduates receive a Russian state-recognised diploma and a degree Master in Management upon successful completion of the International Management program.

The program meets Russian third-generation educational standards and European ECTS standards.
