

Linguistics

Siberian Federal University

Degree or qualification is awarded: Bachelor

Language of study: Russian

Mode of study: full-time

Duration: 4 years

Availability of free education: no

Price: 155 258 RUB per year

Programme webpage at the university website:

http://edu.sfu-kras.ru/sites/edu.sfu-kras.ru/files/oop/annotations/45.03.02_Annotaciya_OP.pdf

Programme curator: Tatiana Verenich

Tel.:

E-mail: tverenich@sfu-kras.ru

The purpose of the educational program is to create conditions for preparing students in the field of the foundations of humanitarian, social, economic and natural science knowledge and obtaining higher education which allows the graduate to successfully work in the chosen field of activity, to have universal and subject-specific competencies in accordance with the requirements of the educational standard in training Linguistics, contributing to its social mobility and sustainability in the labour market.

The main objective of this program is to create the conditions for the formation of general cultural, general professional and professional competencies of students in accordance with the competency model of the graduate in the field of Linguistics, which involves the organisation of the educational process, its informational and educational and methodological support in terms of determining goals, objectives and content training disciplines, monitoring and evaluating the results of students' work and involves solving a number of specific tasks:

- training of specialists with a broad general scientific outlook, deep knowledge in the field of linguistics and intercultural communication, highly professional knowledge of several foreign languages, and able to quickly adapt to the demands of a dynamically developing market labor of the region, region, Russia;
- the formation of a creative, versatile, initiative personality, whose vital interests include participation in the socio-cultural development of society as a whole, and in the formation of Siberian Federal University as an innovative scientific and educational centre in particular;
- the formation of citizen integrated into national and world culture, into modern society and aimed at improving this society;
- the education of a tolerant graduate who is able to engage in a constructive, professional dialogue in situations of interethnic, interfaith, and international contexts of interaction.

The program forms the following skills:

- interdisciplinary skills; - analytical skills;
- teamwork skills; - critical thinking;
- understanding of professionally-oriented vocabulary;
- problem-solving skills;
- deep understanding of the language;
- self-management skills;
- organisational skills and time management;
- excellent communication and presentation skills;
- translation skills.

Competitive advantages for the graduate:

the key factor that determines the high competitiveness in the labour market of a bachelor-linguist is the professionalism of the latter, namely his ability to successfully work in various professional fields due to the high level of development of adaptive and communicative abilities, readiness for intercultural communication and international cooperation, as well as the formation of the project type of thinking, the basis of which is not only the desire for a stable and growing career within the framework of one organisation but also motivated interest in a specific project of the organisation and gaining recognition among its professional colleagues. Maximum pragmatization of knowledge gained by graduates, readiness for continuing education and self-improvement, mobility and flexibility in organizing their own professional activities meet the challenges of an innovative economy and contribute to the successful professional formation of bachelor-linguists.

Employment:

state/commercial organisations and enterprises engaged in international cooperation (manager, translator, press secretary, specialist of the international department and the department of external relations), customs services; tourism business sector; secondary and higher educational institutions (teacher/tutor).

Specializations within this programme