The program is aimed at training highly qualified specialists in the field of design and implementation of the educational process in the field of teacher education in educational organizations of primary general, basic, secondary general, secondary professional, additional and higher education.

This Master's program will introduce you to the best practices of Russian and foreign educational organizations. You will be able to implement the innovative testing methods of teaching foreign languages in our partner schools, while also receive advice from the leading experts of Russia, Germany and the UK. We will also help certified specialists with classical education take their first steps towards a successful teaching career. The program partners with the top-universities in Europe: Dresden University of Technology and Justus Liebig University Giessen, where our students could undergo their internship.

Training in this program involves listening to author's lecture courses of leading Russian and foreign scientists from partner universities, as well as participating in research seminars and projects, passing pedagogical practice in innovative schools. This will ensure the acquisition of the necessary academic and professional practical skills and abilities in accordance with the chosen specialization and prepare undergraduates for professional activities.

According to the results of training, graduates of the program will master a set of competencies necessary for conducting pedagogical, project, methodological and research activities in secondary and higher educational institutions.

After completing this pedagogical MA program, you will be able to work successfully as a teacher of foreign languages (English, German, French, Turkish) in public and private schools, colleges and research institutions. Moreover, you could conduct international grant activities, and also launch your own educational project.
