Immanuel Kant Baltic Federal University is one of 10 federal universities in the Russian Federation. The university was awarded federal status on December 30, 2010. From 2010–2015, the university implemented a major expansion program valued at RUB 5 billion. In 2015, the Long-Term Development Strategy of Immanuel Kant Baltic Federal University won the International Competitiveness Award for Russian Universities.

The mission of the University is to present and promote the best practices of Russian science, education and culture in Europe and enhance the Kaliningrad region's international competitiveness by building up its intellectual and research potentials and image.

Immanuel Kant Baltic Federal University is a leading educational institute in Russia's westernmost region. The university currently offers over 300 secondary, higher, additional, and post-graduate professional educational programs. The university's infrastructure includes 53 buildings. Over the past 5 years, the total area of the university area has expanded by 3.5 times. The university has its own Clinical Diagnostic Center. Over the past 5 years, our R&D funding has increased by 3.5 times.

Immanuel Kant Baltic Federal University, an innovative university in the Russian Federation, strives to maintain and further develop the academic traditions of its predecessor – Albertina Koenigsberg University. The history of Albertina, one of Europe's oldest universities, dates back more than 460 years. Over the years, its instructors and lecturers have included: Johann Hamann, Johann Herder, Friedrich Bessel, Friedrich Jakobi, Ferdinand von Lindemann, Adolf Hurwitz, David Hilbert, and Herman von Helmholtz; the founder of Lithuanian literature Kristijonas Donelaitis studied theology at the university; and the writer and composer E.T.A. Hoffman attended lectures in philosophy. The greatest figure in the history of Koenigsberg University is undoubtedly Immanuel Kant, the great philosopher who was once a Russian citizen. His name forever tied Koenigsberg and the university with the cultural history of all mankind and became a landmark of the region.

Olimpiads

International Student Olympiad on Russian Language, Literature and Culture

March - May

This Olympiad is organized by the University every year. Everyone who studies Russian language either on their own or in frames of professional and additional programs are welcome to become partakers of the contest. All Olympiad winners will receive an opportunity to study during one semester in frames of their chosen educational program.

Russian Language competition «Russian dictation»

October

The contest is conducted annually by IKBFU and takes place at foreign universities. Nearly 1000 people annually become participants. It has turned into a truly "linguistic event" created to prove Russian language capacity as well as the quality of education in Russian language.

International academic Olympiad for the entrants into Master programmes "Open Doors: Russian Scholarship Project"

Selection procedure: application forms will be considered in the period between 1st December and 30th December 2017. The final stage: online test, from 25th January 2018 to 5th February 2018

The first international academic Olympiad for entrants into Master study programmes. Foreign citizens and also compatriots permanently residing abroad have the right to partake in the competition.
